

Room Addition/Remodeling Builder Review

Rieck Construction

Choosing Rieck Construction for our room addition and remodel was the best decision we've ever made concerning our home. Our project started by converting two bedrooms to a second master suite with a bathroom. We weren't quite sure what we wanted. We had limited space and we needed someone who could "think outside the box." We met with several other contractors, but when Michael shared his vision for our project, we knew we had truly found someone with a gift. We were amazed with Michael's attention to detail, his ability to finish on time, and his willingness to stay within our budget.

We immediately hired Rieck Construction to do a two-room addition, a second master bath remodel, a kitchen remodel, and a pool/patio remodel. Again, he attended to our project as if he was remodeling his own home. He was especially concerned with making the new addition fit architecturally with the pre-existing 15 year old structure. During the 10 month project, Michael was either on site or just a phone call away. You could tell that he had put tremendous effort into building relationships with sub-contractors who could meet his high expectations. These companies wanted nothing but our complete satisfaction so they could be associated with Michael's next project.

It's been two years since our project was finished. I can still pick up the phone and call Michael. Within two rings, he is ready to personally handle a warranty issue or stop by to tighten the hinges on a door.

We've never had that kind of service and care from anyone we've worked with. Someday, I'm going to buy a piece of land and build a brand new home. Rieck Construction will handle every detail from beginning to end.
